

Guy Adams

For more than 25 years, Guy Adams has served in leadership and executive positions with social welfare organizations, educational institutions, and with Gonser Gerber Tinker Stuhr, which he joined in 2005 as a consultant. GGTS was founded in 1950 as the first firm organized specifically to provide comprehensive advancement counsel services to non-profit institutions and organizations. Guy provides comprehensive advancement counsel services to schools, colleges and universities, hospitals and healthcare institutions, and other non-profit organizations. His expertise as both a practitioner and consultant includes: major and planned gifts; campaign planning and execution; strengthening Boards; utilization of volunteers; annual giving; strategic planning; public relations and marketing. He is a Board member of AFP Chicago, Chair of the AFP Chicago Peer Mentoring Committee, and Chair of Berea College's Second Century Club.