

Soo Ji Min

Soo Ji Min is the executive director of the Illinois Caucus for Adolescent Health. ICAH works in partnership with youth to advocate sound policies and practices that promote a positive approach to adolescent sexual health and parenting. She served on the board of the Asian Health Coalition (AHC) from 2002 to 2007 and chaired its annual fundraiser for four consecutive years. She was named Outstanding Community Health Advocate by the AHC in 2008. Currently, Soo Ji serves as Treasurer of Chicago Women in Philanthropy. She is a former United Way Chicago Council member and Chicago Commission on Human Relations Mayor's Advisory Council on Asian Affairs member. She is an Illinois Women's Institute for Leadership delegate and a Leadership Greater Chicago fellow. She is a graduate of Barnard College and holds master's degrees from Northwestern University and The University of Chicago.