

Steve Solomon

Steve Solomon is Vice President, Corporate Relations, Exelon and President, Exelon Foundation. Currently he's responsible for Exelon, ComEd and Constellation's corporate relations activities consisting of corporate giving, sponsorships, employee engagement programs, and the Exelon Foundation. During his 29 years with the company, he has managed corporate communications, advertising, audio-visual services, led numerous change management initiatives, and created The Power House, a hands-on energy museum in Zion, IL.

He serves on the boards of Chicago Children's Museum, Chicago High School for the Arts, Chicago Shakespeare Theater, Pope John Paul II School, and the Shedd Aquarium. Steve also volunteers on committees for the following organizations: Chicago History Museum, Chicago Public Schools Creative Schools Campaign, Get in Chicago, Morton Arboretum, Museum of Science and Industry, Rowe-Clark Math & Science Academy, and Rowe Elementary School.